Lecture on CIA Activities to the Intermediate Course on Foreign Affairs at the Foreign Service Institute

1. Thank you for consenting to deliver the lecture to the Foreign Service Officers in the Intermediate Course on Foreign Affairs at the Foreign Service Institute.

2. This course of study in the Foreign Service Institute is designed to provide a comprehensive survey of U. S. foreign policy and programs and to give the officers training in the analysis and solution of foreign policy problems. The present group, we understand, comprises about twenty officers, half of whom have recently returned from assignments in Germany. The entire group has been cleared for access to Top Secret material.

3. For your additional information, the two other lectures on intelligence are "National Intelligence Network of the U. S." by Allan Evans, Director, Office of Intelligence Research and "Intelligence Role of the Foreign Service Officer" by Richard M. Scammon, Chief, Division of Research for Western Europe, Office of Intelligence Research.

4. The time of your lecture is 2 P.M., Thursday, September fourth. This group regularly meets in Room 510, State Annex No. 6, 2115 "C" Street, N. W.
